By His Excellency

JAMES GLEN, Esquire,

Captain-General, Governor, and Commander in Chief, in and over His Majesty's said Province.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS the Time limited by Law, for the Continuance of this present Assembly is so near expiring, that no further Business can conveniently be transacted by the present General Assembly.

I THEREFORE, by and with the Advice of His Majesty's Honourable Council, have thought fit to issue this my PROCLAMATION, for the dissolving this General Assembly, and they are hereby accordingly Dissolved.

Given under my Hand, and the Great Seal of this his Majesty's Province, at the Council-Chamber in Charles-Town, the Fourth Day of October, in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty-One, and in the Twenty-fifth Year of his Majesty's Reign.

GOD save the KING.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

HAGUE, June 20, N.S.

HIS serene highness the prince stadtholder is returned from his progress through the province of Zealand, having made his public entry into Flushing on the 5th, where he was installed in quality of marquis of that place, and he assisted on the 7th at the assembly of the states of the province held at Middleburgh. The people of this province are in great agitation, on account of an ordinance of the states, which requires the wine merchants to take an oath, that they will no way endeavour to avoid paying the duties lately imposed upon wines; which oath most of them refuse to take, from whence it would seem that the Dutch have still some sense of religion left among them.—The fly-boats and other vessels, which are to be employed this year in the herring fishery, amount to the number of 450.

Paris, June 11. A list of men of war and frigates, in a condition for immediate service, is handed about here, whereby it appears, that the number amounts to 66, exclusive of those built at Canada, and those now upon the stocks in the several ports of this kingdom.—26. It is said, that the co[urt] has received letters from M. Bompart, governor of Mar[ti]co, importing, that pursuant to the orders sent him, h[e] caused to be razed, in the islands of Tobago, St. L[u]cia, Dominico, all the forts, intrenchments, batteries, [and] works of defence; that he had likewise withdra[wn] those islands the few troops that were therein, as also the families that had settled there of late; and that none were left but old stagers of different nations, who wanted to stay to get in this year's crop.

Madrid, May 26, N.S. Mr. Keene has presented to the ministry a memorial, of which the following is the substance, "that his excellency having been informed, that several Englishmen, subjects of the king his master, have taken the liberty of quitting the kingdom to settle in Spain, in order to work in the manufacture of cloth, stuffs, &c. against the express tenor of the laws, and reprated prohibitions made for that purpose; he therefore besought his Catholick majesty would be pleased to order, that no more shou'd for the future be admitted, and that those who are already come may be sent back."

Genoa, June 9, N.S. Our councils are in the utmost hurry and perplexity about the affairs of Corsica, the French court having threatened to withdraw their troops from thence, on account of the ill treatment they have lately met with from our people in that island.

Frankfort, June 2, N.S. Several French protestants are arrived at Hanau, who not being permitted the exercise of their religion in that kingdom, are retiring into those parts of Europe where liberty of conscience is allowed. They say, the edicts against the protestants are executed all over France with great rigour, but particularly so in Languedoc.

LONDON, June 1.

Westminster-bridge being esteemed by all judges in architecture to be the most curious structure of its kind in Europe, the following is the account of it, as delivered to his majesty. This bridge is 408 yards in length, 15 yards in breadth; the passage for foot passengers is seven feet, being raised one foot from the carriage road to prevent accidents, &c. It has 15 arches, the center arch being 76 feet wide. The 14 piers obstruct the passage of the water 354 feet, and have a free course of water 870 feet, which is four times more than between the sterlings of London-bridge; which gives room for a sufficient passage of water without a fall, by which care all country barges and working craft, boats, &c. may pass thro' without danger.

June 11th. The earl of Sandwich resigned his post of first lord commissioner of the admiralty, in which he is succeeded by the lord Anson. And soon after the lord Trentham resigned his place of one of the commissioners of the admiralty.

June 25th. His Majesty went to the house of Peers, and gave the royal assent to the following bills, viz. An act for granting to his majesty 600,000 l. out of the sinking fund, for the current year; and for allowance to poor widows of officers belonging to the navy.—An act for the more effectual securing the duties on tobacco.—The foreign linen-yarn bill.—An act to enable his majesty to make leases and copies of offices, lands, and hereditaments, [illegible] of his dutchy of Cornwall, or annexed to [illegible] for rendering justices of the peace more [illegible] their office, [illegible] qualifying [illegible] extending [illegible] can pot-[illegible] taken off, [illegible] bills of [illegible] parties [illegible]

Great-Britain.—An act for the more effectual preservation of the turnpike roads, by leſſening the number of horſes drawing waggons, &c.—An act to abbreviate Michaelmas term.—The ſpirituous liquors bill.—An act for continuing ſeveral laws therein mentioned relating to the premiums upon the importation of maſts, yards, tar, pitch, &c.—An act for the making more effectual an act for the recovery of ſmall debts in the city and liberty of Weſtminſter.—The Weſtminſter-bridge road bill.—And to 14 private bills.

After which his majeſty concluded the ſeſſion with a moſt gracious ſpeech to both houſes, and prorogued the parliament to Auguſt 13.

His majeſty, in his ſpeech, thanks both houſes for the proofs they had given of their zeal and affection for him and his government, and their care and attention for the intereſts of his people; tells the commons, that the prudence and firmneſs they had ſhewn, in compleating the reduction of the intereſt of the national debt, was as agreeable to him, as that meaſure was eſſential to the ſtrength and welfare of the kingdom; and concludes with recommending to both houſes to encourage and promote a juſt reverence for government and law, and not to ſuffer thoſe good laws, which were enacted there, to loſe their effect, for want of due execution.

From the LIST of PROMOTIONS.

Marquis of Hartington, eldeſt ſon of the duke of Devonſhire, called up by writ to the houſe of peers, by the title of viſcount and baron Cavendiſh.—Earl of Granville, made preſident of the council.—Earl of Holderneſs, made one of his majeſty's principal ſecretaries of ſtate, in the room of the duke of Bedford, who reſigned.—Upon the reſignation of the earl of Sandwich and lord Trentham, the new commiſſion of admiralty ſtands thus, viz. lord Anſon, lord viſcount Barrington, lord Duncannon, Welbore Ellis and Thomas Villiers, Eſqrs. together with William Rowley and Edward Boſcawen, Eſqrs. The two laſt are the new ones.

CHARLES-TOWN, October 7.

On Friday the 4th Inſtant, a Proclamation was iſſued, for diſſolving the General Aſſembly of this Province: And the ſame Day Writs were ſigned, for a new Election on the 22d and 23d Days of this Inſtant, which Writs are returnable the 14th Day of November next.

We hear, that Iſaac Holmes, Eſq; (now at New-York for the Recovery of his Health) is appointed a Member of his Majeſty's Honourable Council, in the Room of Col. Joſeph Blake, lately deceaſed.

On Saturday laſt the Snow Charming Peggy, Capt. Patrick Connery, from Jamaica for London, put into this Port, in Diſtreſs. In the ſaid Snow arrived Capt. James Hume, who commanded the Ship Great-Britain, which ſail'd from Jamaica for London on the 25th of Auguſt, but was caſt away on the Martiers the 15th ult. Capt Hume informs us, that he and his Crew were inhumanly uſed by the Indians at the Martiers, who obliged them to put to Sea from thence in his Long-Boat, and remain on the Wreck, till happily taken off by Capt. Connery, and one Capt. Ring.

DISTRESS & DELIVERANCE, Sept. 16*th*, 1751.

WHO can deſcribe the horrors of that night,
Whoſe dreadful darkneſs veil'd my anxious ſight?
When in the open ſea, and far from land,
The raging billows ſpake our death at hand:
The laden clouds in liquid ſtreams deſcend,
And riſing guſts deſtruction did portend.
Our labouring barge in fiery mountains bound;
And breaking ſeas, like ſheets of lightning round!
Relentleſs ocean! each ſurpriſing wave
Terrific diſtraction, and a flowing grave.
Amaze and horror ſtruck thro' every breaſt!
While I, [illegible] God we made our late requeſt.
With trembling hand our pilot's care conveys,
The boyant veſſel thro' the troubled ſeas
In nimble ſurges, to the ſafeſt land;
Avoiding rocks, and dangerous ſhoals of ſand.
At laſt, with joy, we find a ſafe retreat,
An harbour from the dangers of the deep:
Where, void of trouble, we reflect paſt care,
And bleſs the hand that brought us ſafely here.
Our thankful hearts with gratitude expreſs,
Our praiſe to him, who gave us near acceſs.
O! may our ſouls with joyful ſongs record,
The goodneſs and the mercy of the lord.
